

Emerging Challenging Behavior Consultation Parent or Guardian Informed Consent Form

Children’s System of Care (CSOC) works with several agencies to provide consultation, including Autism New Jersey, Care Management Organization (CMO), Mobile Response and Stabilization Services (MRSS), and Family Support Organization (FSO) staff. They give recommendations to help families with youth with complex needs.

Your child may benefit from Emerging Challenging Behavior Consultation from Autism New Jersey. These consultants can help the CSOC staff and system partners working with you and your family to support your child’s needs.

Being part of this program means that:

- ✓ Information about your child will be shared with a few people at CSOC and Autism New Jersey. This information will have identifying private information, but it will only be shared with people who are providing consultation. This information (which might be things like evaluations, IEPs, and behavior plans) will be shared by a HIPAA-compliant, secure link.
- ✓ Consultants’ suggestions will be shared with you, and they may attend meetings and phone calls regarding your child.
